JOIN THE FRIENDS OF KRESGE
FOR A DAY TRIP TO ANN ARBOR

THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN MUSEUM OF ART AND
THE KELSEY MUSEUM OF ARCHAEOLOGY

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14, 2010

Join us for a day in Ann Arbor! We’ll begin at the University of Michigan Museum of Art (UMMA) for a docent-led tour highlighting their new 53,000-square-foot expansion and restoration of its 41,000-square-foot original building, Alumni Memorial Hall. The new $41.9 million addition, designed by architect Brad Cloepfil at Allied Works Architecture, opened in 2009 and more than doubled the space available for their superb collection. Exhibitions also on view, Tradition Transformed: Chang Ku-nien, Master Painter of the 20th Century; An Economy of Means: The Dorothy and Herbert Vogel Collection; and Art, Anti-Art, Non-Art: Experiments in the Public Sphere in Postwar Japan, 1950-1970.

A catered lunch in the Pendleton Room of the University of Michigan’s Union will be followed by a docent-led tour at The Kelsey Museum of Archaeology which houses a collection of nearly 100,000 ancient and medieval objects from the Mediterranean and the Near East. The new William E. Upjohn Exhibit Wing of Greek, Roman, Near Eastern, and Egyptian material opened in November 2009 and houses the permanent collection (around 1300 objects arranged by culture). A special exhibition, Mary Upjohn Meader: Pioneering Adventures over Africa features dramatic aerial photographs Meader took over Egypt in 1937, before modernity had encroached on the pyramids and other ancient monuments.
