MUSEUM INFORMATION

KRESGE ART MUSEUM

Kresge Art Museum, founded in 1959, houses Michigan State University’s collection of over 7,000 works of art. Portions of the collection are on continuous display, offering a rich diversity of style, technique and media. Objects on view span 5,000 years of human history and include representative examples of works of art from ancient Cycladic figures to contemporary mixed media installations.

Traveling exhibitions and temporary shows curated by museum staff explore many historical, cultural and contemporary themes. Additionally, every spring Kresge displays art by current MSU Master of Fine Arts and Undergraduate art students.

Participate in Kresge programs such as exhibition opening receptions, gallery walks, lectures with visiting artists, day trips, and other special events.

Join ASPIRE! Kresge Art Museum’s student organization, ASPIRE, plans a variety of programs to attract students to the museum including open mic nights, social events, and special tours. For additional information email aspire@msu.edu. Please visit their website at www.msu.edu/~aspire.

MSU MUSEUM

The museum, founded in 1857, is one of the oldest museums in the Midwest. Designated an anchor organization by the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs, the museum is Michigan’s leading public natural and cultural history museum. The museum is a public steward for 2.5 million objects or specimens of cultural and natural history from around the world.

The museum is also home of the Michigan Traditional Arts Program, a statewide program in partnership with Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs.

Participate in MSU Museum community events to help support collections care such as the Chocolate Party Benefit, MSU Federal Credit Union Dinosaur Dash, India Week, the Great Lakes Folks Festival and many more!

Become an MSU Museum volunteer! You can help in many ways: assist in education programs, catalog collections, volunteer at museum-related events, and participate in living museum exhibits as a volunteer for the annual Great Lakes Folk Festival. For more information, call the MSU Museum at 517-432-4655.
